Generation Connection Program Overview

Who is TheirCare?

We provide amazing Outside of School Hours Care (OSHC) services for primary school children in partnership with schools in your community. We go above and beyond for the communities we serve... because we care. This dedication to continual improvement sets us apart as we strive to exceed expectations and provide an exceptional experience for children in our care.

What is Generation Connection?

Inspired by the hit ABC TV show Old People's Home for Four-Year-Olds, we have been fortunate to receive funding through the government to facilitate our very own intergenerational program. Our goal is to build meaningful connections between young and older people in the community, which supports participants' social and emotional well-being.

We are members of the Australian Institute of Intergenerational Practice, and our staff are currently undergoing training in planning for and delivering intergenerational programs and look forward to welcoming you into our program.

How can this program benefit you?

We hope the program will bring many benefits to all participants. We anticipate that the older adults' wellbeing will increase through the sharing of knowledge and skills, that there's also an increase in confidence and joy and a reduction of social isolation through the connection with the children and young people in the community. The program will be such fun!

How do I participate?

Returning Friends: If you had fun with us during our September/October Holiday Program period and would love to take part again, simply inform us of the dates you wish to join us on and any additional requirements such as transportation needs. We will add you to the list so the service knows that you are coming. There is no need to fill in a new registration form.

New Friends: It's never too late to have fun! To join in, simply complete an expression of interest/contact information form, available on our website at www.theircare.com.au/generation-connection. We will then reach out to you with the next steps.

Frequently Asked Questions

Who will be running the program at the service?

Our team of Outside School Hours Care educators will be leading the program at the service. These skilled and valued educators undergo training, screening, and professional development in line with the highly regulated sector which we operate in. They will often be studying towards a teaching degree and will have completed first aid certifications, child protection awareness training and have a current Working with Children Check.

How many children will be participating in the program?

We have sought advice from experts while establishing the program who have recommended a group size of approximately 20-30 children.

How much does this program cost?

We have been fortunate to receive support from the Department of Education, NSW for our Generation Connection program, so your involvement (activities, transportation etc) will not cost anything.

Can Generation Connection provide transportation to and from the experiences?

For participants who require assistance with transportation to and from the program or experiences, we can provide transportation from your home or a designated location at no out of pocket costs. Simply note this on your participant information sheet or advise our office and we will look after the booking for you.

Do I need to participate every day?

To develop a strong bond with the children and service, it would be great for participants to join us on all program days; however, we understand that people lead busy lives and may have other appointments or engagements, so there is no obligation to participate every day.

If at any time you find that this program is not for you and wish to withdraw, please let us know.

What do I need to bring?

Please ensure you are wearing appropriate clothing and footwear for having fun participating in the activities scheduled.

We will provide some refreshments during the program, however, you are welcome to bring a lunch or snack with you. Due to the risk of anaphylaxis reactions for children and other participants, we ask that no nut products be brought into the program.

Should you require any special equipment or medication, please pack this too.

How do you plan for specific needs?

We pride ourselves on providing inclusive services to the community so we will try to accommodate any specific needs as best as we can. It will help us if you can note these needs on the participant information sheet so we can plan or reach out for more information.

As we work in partnership with and operate out of schools, our facilities should be easily accessible.

What is the study with Griffith University?

We are excited to be partnering with Griffith University to undertake a peer-reviewed study of our intergenerational practice program.

Generation Connection is one of the first larger projects focused on the connections between middle childhood (primary school) aged children and older adults in the community and the benefits to participants and society.

This study is designed to gather information about participant's experiences with as little burden as possible. Griffith University will collect the following details:

- Deidentified demographic data, such as age, location and level of participation;
- Observations from educators during the program;
- Surveys before, during and after the study; and
- An invitation to participate in a focus group to talk about your experience.

Participation is voluntary. Choosing to take part will help collect valuable information about the benefits of this type of program both at a local, national and international level. Consent forms will be distributed to you prior to the start of the program.

How can we keep in touch with the service during the school term?

To continue the connection built between the children and yourself, the team at the service will be looking to incorporate additional activities such as a pen pals program and remote/online activities (e.g. storytelling, games etc.). You are welcome to participate in these activities – keep an eye out for information provided by the service Coordinator.

In addition, if you have any special skills which you would like to share with the team, such as cooking, knitting, crafts etc., you are welcome to join us at the service – the children love special guests!
